

July 2025 Prayer Guide

Monday prayer points: Literature

- Please pray for the impact of the Ukrainian translation of 'Tackling Trauma', a Langham resource which is a collection of essays. Christians there have appreciated this timely book.
- Pray for Markiyan Klepach and his ongoing ministry in Ukraine, serving thousands of displaced people and sharing God's love and hope.
- Continue to pray that a suitable replacement for Libby Kelly, Langham Literature's Operations Director, will be found as soon as possible. Pray for those with increased responsibilities in the meantime.
- Please pray for Colin Macpherson, based in Scotland, Langham Literature's Director of Publisher Development. Pray for his ongoing work with indigenous Christian publishing houses in Majority World countries.

Tuesday prayer points: Scholars

- A Langham Scholar from a sensitive Asian country is in Cambridge for a study residency this month. Please pray that she will be able to focus and access helpful resources.
- Pray for Dr Havilah Dharamraj, who is based in South Asia, in her role as Associate Director for Scholar Care. Pray for wisdom and guidance in this important work supporting Scholars.
- A Langham Graduate has recently been appointed as the President of a seminary in a sensitive Asian country. Please pray that he will lead with humility and grace.
- Give thanks to God for the opportunities Langham Graduate Rania Hendy has, now she has gained her PhD from Asbury Theological Seminary and is serving back home in Egypt. Pray she will be an encouragement and inspiration to many students.

Wednesday prayer points: Preaching

- Pray for the ongoing work of Langham Preaching across Central Asia, a region in which life is difficult for Christians. Pray for 'P', Langham Preaching's coordinator for Central Asia, that he would know God's grace.
- Praise God that Langham has published its 500th book, 'Preaching the Parables', a Langham Preaching resource. Please pray that this highly practical book will be extremely helpful for preachers around the world.
- Pray for Hankuri Tawus Gaya, a Preaching Movement Coordinator in a sensitive African country, as he juggles many different responsibilities. He is also a writer, publisher and campus missionary.

- Last month, a Level 1 Langham Preaching seminar took place in Petrolina, Northeast Brazil for 70 preachers. Pray they'll put into practice what they've learnt and renew their commitment to local preaching clubs (called escuelas).

Thursday prayer points: International

- Praise God for the faithful staff members who work 'behind-the-scenes' of the frontline Langham ministries. Pray for the Operational Management Team, Personal Assistants and administrators, that they will know the Lord's peace and encouragement.
- Please continue to pray earnestly for countries at war around the world, and in particular for our Langham family members who are holding out the Word of Truth at this time.
- Give thanks to God that Langham now has a new 'National Member', in the Netherlands, led by Jaap Haasnoot. Please pray for Jaap as he starts to spread the word and raise funds there.

Friday prayer points: UK and Ireland

- We have stands at the Keswick Portstewart and Keswick (Cumbria) conventions this month. Chris Wright our International Ambassador is speaking at both events. Please pray for much engagement with the Langham team and for new supporters to come on board.
- LPUKI's twice-yearly print magazine 'Transform' was delivered to more than 2,000 supporters in May and it will be handed out at a number of conventions over the next six months. Please pray that this will be read by many.
- Please continue to pray for our new Bible study course 'Understanding Mission', written by Chris Wright. Pray that it will spur church leaders across the UK and Ireland in particular to truly understand God's mission and our part in it.
- Pray that many will attend our monthly Langham Live Zoom call, taking place on Thursday 24th and Friday 25th July, with Colin Macpherson (Langham's Director for Publisher Development) as the guest.

Saturday & Sunday prayer points

- Praise God that the Langham Live podcast was launched last month! Please pray that many people will find out about Langham through the podcast and that the episodes will spur people on to pray for Langham's global ministries.
- As many Langham staff members and ministry partners take well-earned breaks over the Summer, please pray for rest, refreshment and safe travels.
- Langham has a presence on various social media channels. Please pray for the staff members creating content, that they would know God's guidance and wisdom. Pray that new people will find out about Langham on these platforms and become supporters.
