

October 2025 Prayer Guide

Monday prayer points: Scholars

- Praise God for Langham Graduate Samuel Sarkodie-Addo, who is urging Christians across Africa to put their faith into practice. Pray for Samuel in his many speaking opportunities.
- Pray for Lina Toth, in her role as Director of the Langham Scholars programme. Pray for wisdom and guidance.
- Give thanks to God for the team of 11 Scholar Care Coordinators around the world, providing vital pastoral care for many Scholars. Pray today for Rico Villanueva, in the Philippines, as he looks after Scholars who are studying in Asia.
- Pray for Langham Scholar 'D' from the Middle East/North Africa region. Pray for focus and insight as she begins her dissertation (she is studying at Princeton Theological Seminary).

Tuesday prayer points: Preaching

- Pray for Femi Adeleye, Director of Langham Preaching in Africa. Early in October, the team is holding meetings outside of Africa, to ensure more people can obtain visas. Please pray for a fruitful time of reflection and planning for the future.
- Pray for Langham Preaching's three advisory groups for: oral preference learners, women and youth. Please pray for the convenors—Jocabed Solano & Aristide Takore (Orality), Sharon McClaughlin Wilmshurst (Women); and Esteban Améstegui (Youth)—with this final one just beginning to take shape.
- Pray for Wilfredo Weigandt, Langham Preaching's Regional Coordinator for Southern Cone (Latin America) as he starts to develop indigenous resources related to preaching. Pray that these resources will be useful to the Kingdom of God!
- Praise God for preaching training in Serbia (level one) which took place last month. Pray that new small preaching groups would be established in Belgrade.

Wednesday prayer points: Literature

- Pray for Joel Marriott, who is the IT Support and Development Officer based at the Langham Service Centre in Carlisle.
- Give thanks that over the years, Langham Literature has published books by many Langham Scholars, enabling important research to be read by a wider audience.
- Pray for the impact of recent Langham release 'Our Father In Heaven', a scholarly but practical exposition of the Lord's prayer.

- Recently, a contextual commentary on the book of John, by Johnson Thomaskutty, was published as part of Langham's Asia Bible Commentary series. Please pray that many believers across Asia will benefit from this commentary and the wider series.

Thursday prayer points: International

- Please continue to pray for peace in areas of the world experiencing the devastation of war.
- Pray for Jill McGilvray as she chairs the Langham International Council. Pray for guidance and strength as important decisions are made.

Friday prayer points: UK and Ireland

- In October, LPUKI has a stand (with Langham Literature) at the Christian Resources Exhibition in Surrey. Please pray that many will stop at the stand and that more people will start supporting Langham.
- Praise God for the well-attended international launch of new resource Understanding Mission last month. Keep praying that this resource will be used by many.
- Give thanks to God for the high number of faithful supporters who gather for our Langham Live zoom call each month. Please pray for Colin Macpherson (last month's guest) and his important work with indigenous Christian publishing houses.

Saturday & Sunday prayer points

- As Langham's ministries grow and costs increase, please pray for more financial support so that the work can continue to impact believers around the world.
- Please pray that Langham's staff around the world will continue to walk closely with God and know His presence.
